

Programs and Services that Teach, Train, and Support

Pregnant and Parenting Youth

- Generations Unit: Pregnant and parenting youth need extra support and guidance to complete their education, gain work experience, and master other life skills while balancing the responsibilities of parenthood. OYE provides services tailored to help pregnant and parenting youth manage their special challenges. An outreach specialist works with private providers to ensure teen parents on their caseload are linked to community resources for supportive services. Contact: Aicha Gough, aicha.gough@dc.gov, (202) 442-6145.
- New Heights Teen Parent Program operates from 13 DC public schools and two public charter schools to help expectant and parenting students successfully complete high school or obtain a GED. New Heights provides these students with guidance about balancing the responsibilities of raising a child and getting an education. Social workers and attorneys can contact Valerie Lott, valerie.lott@dc.gov or (202) 442-4170 for a referral form.
